Resolution to This Effect Offered in the Senate-House Passes Angell Demurrage Bill-Hospital Measure Adopted by the Senato.

The Senate session yesterday was brief, but it was full of public interest.

Senator Barksdale offered a resolution, which was referred, and which was designed to follow up his pure election bill already passed, requiring the absolute forfeiture of the charter of any carporation doing business in the State which shall contribute in any way to the nomination or election of any officer, whether in primary or convention or at a general election. The resolution is regarded as sweeping in its provisions, and is believed to be aimed against railways and other corporations heretofore add to have taken active part in the election of men to office. The remainder of the session was devoted to perfecting the bill to amend the law in relation to the management of State hospitals, and it was finally passed, after adopting an amondment offered by Mr. Koczell, making the salaries of all the superintendents uniform, and fixing them at $2,150 per year.

The House passed the Angell bill to re-

The Senate session was short and was devoted almost exclusively to the consideration of the bill relating to the management of the State hospitals.

The body adopted the committee amendments to the House bill, all of which have been printed. They were added principally to perfect the bill.

The matter of fixing the salaries of the hospital superintendents created a breezy discussion. Discrepancies were pointed out. One superintendent receives $2,500, another $2,250 and a third $2,000, while the fourth only gets $1,800.

This was defeated, and the bill, as amended by the committee, was passed.

The House.

The House was called to order at 10 clock by Speaker Ryan, and prayer was offered by Rev. W. B. Beauchamp, of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Cardwell offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Speaker to have the recent damage done to Houdon's statue of Washington repaired out of motive set apart for House expenses. It was remarked that it was eminently fitting that a farmer should offer a resolution to repair the mold-board of a plow, the statue having been chipped on the image of this implement.

The following bills were offered and referred:

Coffee does not set up disease with all people using it, on the other hand it absolutely does create disease in thousands and thousands of cases perfectly well authenticated and traceable directly to coffee and nothing else.

was endorsed, and Monday night it will go to the Common Council for inspection. The report is of much interest, as it shows that the financial condition is fine, so good as to warrant, the commission in time taking the entire water bend issue of the city at par.

According to the report, there is now in the fund $750,000, of which $55,000 may be regarded as an uninvested surplus. The balance is invested on a paying basis.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. James R. Gordon, chairman of the Finance Committee; William M. Turpin, president of the Board of Aldermen; Sol Bloomberg, president of the Common Council; Charles H. Phillips, city treasurer.

As stated in The Times-Dispatch yesterday morning, there is little doubt but that the entire bond issue of $25,000, with which it is proposed to clear the James River water, as served the residents of Richmond, will be taken at par by the Sinking Fund Commission. Bonds to the amount of $10,000 have already been purchased, and the purchasing committee, Mr. Gordon and Mr. Phillips, will doubtless recommend that the balance also be bought in.

of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which will be held in Lexington, be made to secure the appointment of a permanent committee on the Bible cause, which will be similar in character to the other standing organizations of the body.

THE PETITION.

The movement is initiated by the Rev. Thomas H. Low, D.D., of Spartanburg, S. C., district superintendent of the American Bible Society for North Carolina, Bouth Carolina, Gooriga, Florida and Alabama. Dr. Low has drawn, up the outline of a memorial to the Assembly and has sent it to the Rev. William S. Campbell, of this city, secretary of the Bible Society of Virginia, asking his advice. The paper reads as follows:

The undersigned respectfully memorialize the General Assembly, in session at Lexington, Va., 1908, to add to the permanent committees of the body one on the Bible cause.

The object of this proposition is, through the annual reports of the committee to secure for the Assembly more complete, accurate and up-th-date information concerning the condition and progress of this great department of our evangelistic work, which the Assembly endorses and urges all our churches systematically and liberally to support.

The reasons upon which this memorial is based are:

1. The Assembly often lacks sufficient information about this work for intelli-

In The Journal of the lacks sufficient information about this work for intelligent and practical action in regard to it. Even if one of the corresponding secretaries of the American Bible Socioty addresses the body and furnishes the report of that society there is still wanting information concerning our own special relations to the work.

2. As nearly all our synods and many of the presbyteries already have such permanent committees, this will be but to complete the system throughout our church organization and render it more efficient.

3. The cause is worthy of it. The great work of circulating God's word among the people underlies our whole enterprise of Christian evangelization, is of vast and rapidly increasing importance in both our home and foreign fields, and, therefore, should be adequately brought be.

President Starts on His Long Journey to the West.

GREAT CROWD SAW START

Throngs Assembled at the White House and at the Pennsylvania Station and Oheered Wildly When Mr. Hoosevelt Appeared.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON. April 1.—President Roosevelt at 9:05 o'clock this morning started on his Western trip under the most favorable auspices. As the special train pulled out of the Pennsylvania station the President stood on the platform of his private car, tipping his hat and smilling in response to the enthusiastic cheers of hundreds of admirers and private friends.

As early as 8 o'clock a crowd began to gather at the White House to witness the President's departure. As he entered his carriage to drive to the depot, the men made the historic grounds resound with cheers, while women waved their handseroldes and many of them their hats. The Pennsylvania station and platforms were crowded with people anxious to extend the chief magistrate their good wishes for a safe and successful journey. Notable procautions were taken to insure the safety of the President. Uniformed officials, headquarters detectives, plain clothes men and secret service operatives surrounded the President and covered every point.

plain clothes men and secret service operatives surrounded the President and covered every point.

As Prosident Roosevolt alighted from his carriage, he was joined by Secretary Hitchoock, and they walked down the station platform arm in arm, the President stopping now and then to greet personal friends. He was attired in a black cutaway coat, dark striped trousers and wore a black feit hat. He was in the best of spirits, and chatted enthusiastically with friends about the trip on which he was about to start.

The most notable incident connected with the President's departure arose from the presence at the station of the German minister, Baron Spec von Stornburg. He was the only member of the diplomatic corps present, and the Persident greeted him most cordially, telling him that he greatly appreciated the courtesy. The President asked the Baron whether he would be in Washington on his return, and on receiving an affirmative reply said, "That is good. We will have some long rides togather."

The Baron told the President that his horses were in India, and would not be here for some time. Instantly the President turned and gave orders that his riding horse and that of Mrs. Roosevelt should be placed at the disposal of the Baron. "If you and the Baron-ess won Sternburg.

"I should be very much pleased," said he to the Baron, "If you and the Baron-ess would ride them while I am away," As the train drew out the President called, "Good-bye, Baron; I appreciate your coming very much."

It was learned yesterday that the Finance Committee does not intend to put the entire issue on the market at once. They will be disposed of Just as money is needed to carry on the work of constructing the settling and coagulating basins, and, this being the case, the Sinking Fund will at all times be in a condition to purchase the bonds.

As stated above there is now in the fund a surplus of $56,000, and by the first of July, which will be before any additional money is needed to push the work, there will be as much as $100,000. Thus it is probable that a goodly portion of this round, fat sum will be used in buying additional bonds. This would carry the work through the year.

A member of the Finance Committee said yesterday afternoon that the plan to sell the bonds to the Sinking Fund impressed him as first rate, and he was much in favor of the step, which will doubtless be taken.
